FIRST PHOTOGRAPH OF THE KINGSTON RUINS

COPYRIGHT, BY AMERICAN-JOURNAL-EXAMINER, 1907.

The negative from which this picture was made was brought in to-day by a passenger on the Steamship Admiral Sampson. It is the first photograph published ANYWHERE showing the result of the Jamaica earthquake. The picture was taken Tuesday morning at the corner of King and Harbor streets, in the very heart of the business district of Kingston.

THAW ARRAIGNED FOR KILLING WHITE

ARCHITECT'S SLAYER QUICKLY REMANDED
FOR REAL BEGINNING OF TRIAL IN FEW DAYS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Manned to a delay in the filigree "mangle boots" case, the Thaw family of St. Louis, was brought from the old Gray Tomb to-day to stand trial for shooting down and killing Architect Stanford White on the roof of Madison Square Garden last June. Thaw, of his artist model wife Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

Though held from his mouth of confession in the Thaw case, Thaw's health seemed much improved by his incarceration. His arraignment to-day was purely formal and he will be remanded back to the Tomb to await the real beginning of his trial in a few days. A

SECRETARY BACON STAMPS RUMORS OF TROUBLE AS FALSE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 21.—Acting Secretary of State Bacon, when shown the dispatch from Kingston regarding Governor Sweetetham's attitude toward Rear Admiral Davis at once declared that it was not true.

"There is not the slightest word of trouble or foundation for it in any way," he said. "The ships have not sailed," he said. "The withdrawal of the American ships and the remarkable correspondence that led up to that step cannot be grounded on anything in Washington."

Julien C. Edgerly, of the Boston American Staff, Who With His Wife, Were in the Midst of Kingston's Destruction, Writes of the Terrible Calamity That Wiped Out City in 15 Seconds.

The first account of the earthquake which wrecked Kingston, Jamaica, January 14, as told by persons who were eye-witnesses of the disaster, is given by the BOSTON AMERICAN to-day.

The steamship Admiral Sampson arrived in Boston to-day with thirty-two refugees from Kingston. Among the passengers were Julien C. Edgerly of the BOSTON AMERICAN staff and wife.

Mr. Edgerly writes for the BOSTON AMERICAN the first American newspaper story of the earthquake published in the United States. Here is his story:

BY JULIEN C. EDGERLY.

Three thirty-three of a January afternoon in Kingston, the height of what would be the Summer season in New England. The sun was beating down pitilessly on the old city. Clouds of dust were over everything. The natives, such as could, slept, but in the shops and in the streets the tourists were astir, bargaining, sightseeing.

And THEN, fifteen seconds later, the city was in ruins. Business houses and residences were flat with the ground. A thousand lives, some say as many as 5,000, had been snuffed out. Five thousand more human beings were buried, groaning and praying in the wreckage.

"$100 in Prizes for Those Who Solve the Mystery"

A Thrilling Mystery Story
Based on a Recent New England Crime.

By J. Frank Davis

Synopsis

Mrs. GRACE HAZARD, a young married woman, well-to-do in her own right, was mysteriously murdered in the early morning of the first of January, 1907, in her home at 1234 Broadway, Boston. Her husband, Mr. HAZARD, was found in the room in which she was killed, but he was not injured. The police, after a thorough search, found no clues. The case was a mystery.

CHAPTER X.

The Mystery Deepens.

As we entered the hotel Ford was in the telephone booth and held a long conversation over the wire. When he emerged the proprietor approached him confidentially.

"This is a woman sitting in the 'ladies' parlor waiting to see you," he said quietly. "She has been here for more than an hour—say she must see you before you go to bed on account of her important—asked me not to let anyone know she was here."

"Thank you," said Ford. "Come along with me. I might as well see this thing through."

WATCH THE CAMERA MAN; HE'S APT TO GET YOU

He Catches One Woman Shopper
Every Weekday in the Retail District.

1. UST like finding money, isn't it? Easiest way in the world to get it? Isn't it? Why, it's the pleasant proposition ever made.

How it is, is a mystery. The HUNTON AMERICAN CAMERA MAN does it every day about noon in the vicinity of stores unattended by a woman shopper.

When the picture is printed the original of the photograph calls, identifies the unhappy and receives a reward of $2.50 for the picture. If she can't call, she sends a photograph of herself, and if she's "in the picture" she gets $2.50.

How many eyes on the Camera Man. He may catch you any day.

ILL, PLUNGED 45 FEET TO GROUND

Alone in his apartment in the Tawnee-gable, No. 12 Humboldt street, Boston, he died last night, after a long illness. He was a retired merchant, related to a well known family, and was a member of the Boston Athletic Club.

His name was placed on the dangerous list last night about 8 o'clock. The apartment house, which occupied the space between the city and the harbor, had been a crash, followed by the collapse of the structure. His
